WELCOME

Wentworth Woodhouse, standing in a park of 250 acres, with its East Front of 615 feet and its courts and buildings covering more than three acres of ground, was ranked as perhaps the very largest of the country palaces created by our 18th Century Whig "Magnates".

It was the home of Charles 1st's ill-fated administrator, Thomas Wentworth, 1st Earl of Strafford. It remained in the hands of the Fitzwilliam family until 1989. The house and around 90 acres of land were then bought by Mr Wensley Haydon-Baillie, a businessman, who was here for 10 years. In 1999, it was bought by Mr Clifford Newbold and his family, who are in the process of restoring the house to its former glory.

THE FUTURE

It is hoped that a bespoke suite can be incorporated into the existing building to host fabulous weddings & events and help secure the long term future of Wentworth, one of Europe's grandest country houses.

In the meantime dinners & receptions, including wedding breakfasts, can be hosted in the one of the main rooms with the flexibility to host evening parties in a marquee in the grounds.

As well as supporting the future of wentworth, the team at Dine are on hand to ensure your event is special, looking after you throughout the planning process & then delivering our award winning food & service on the day itself.

Originally planned as the Dining Room & measuring some 40 feet square, the Whistle Jacket Room is great for entertaining, brimming with impressive features. THE PILLARED HALL £3,600+ VAT

Although guests of note would traditionally arrive at the Marbled Saloon, the usual and more frequently used route to the house was via the Pillared Hall & benefits from ground floor access directly from the front of house.
